

Training Announcement

www.bcssheriff.org bcoem@berriencounty.org (269) 983-7111 x4915

Feb 3, 2018

TB 18-1

Course Title:

National Weather Service Storm Spotter

Dates/Times:

Wednesday, March 14 2018, 5:30 PM - 7:30 PM

Door opens at 5:15 PM for sign in

Location:

Andrews University – Architecture Building

8435 E. Campus Circle Dr., Berrien Springs, MI

Registration Info:

Cost: $0.00; This class is open to the general public

Deadline: Mar 12, 2018

Requirements: You must pre-register online

Link: <http://berrienmispotter.eventzilla.net>

Click Here to Register
Today!!!

Course Description:

Skywarn is a group of trained severe weather spotters that report directly to the NWS. Year after year, reports from Skywarn volunteers assist the NWS in issuing more timely and accurate warnings based on real-time reports. The NWS's primary mission is to issue warnings to protect life and property. The ground truth reports from Skywarn spotters are an integral part of the mission critical warning process that combines advanced Doppler radar data and meteorological skills. This course communicates how spotters should report events and what events to report. Your report can save lives. Be a part of this important process, sign up today.

Additional:

Optional Pre-courses: Optional MetEd Pre-courses are on the registration page.

Course contact: Capt. Rockey Adams at radams1@berriencounty.org;

(269) 983-7111 x4915